Visit Report

Department of zoology of Dada Patil Mahavidyalaya Karjat has organised a field visit at the fish breeding farm at Therawadi and by Sunrise agro services as a part of activity under Mou & field visit.

This visit has organised on 25th Sept. 2017 with the able guidance of Dr. Indira Patil with the valuable assistance provided by Prof. Rizwan Khan, Prof. Digvijay Kumbhar, Prof. Ganesh Jambade, Prof. Salim Shaiikh, & Prof. Rekha Shinde. The T. & B.Sc zoology students have enrolled themselves for this visit.

This field trip was planned so as to make students understand how a fish farm works. During the field visit we have visited the Therawadi fish farm. On reaching the farm, students saw a number of fishes of different varieties. The farm has a number of breeding ponds. The mechanism of each pond was explained by the owner.

We observed different types of ponds like Broodstock, hatching ponds, nursery ponds 15-20 days fries, fingerlings, rearing pond (60-90 day) & grow out systems (10-12 month). We also observed the mechanism of induced breeding over there. There was a Veterinarian for weekly checkup.

There is a provision of employees cleaning the farms. There are separate employees for each fish pond. Fish at this farm are given high protein food. The ponds are cleaned regularly to control diseases that may affect the fish. One could see the attention given to the fishes by taking proper care of them.

There are special ponds for rearing fish so as to give them special care. The fingerlings are very well maintained. The students could understand the importance of cleanliness & regular checkup. This experience has made the students realise something new & made them learn the new things. We have collected some small sized fishes from Nursery Ponds. (Coatla coatla, Labeo rohita, Cyprinus carpio) & exotic fish i.e. Mozambique tilapia.

Thus this field visit has provide an insight about fish farming, which can be good. Self employment student can consider as their future profession. We the students of T.J.B.Sc Zoology must appreciate the efforts taken by the collage administration on to arrange such field visit & hands on training activity.

Definitely we will be the part of such next visit. Thank you all.
